Tama Morgan

Current Position: Material and Equipment Coordinator

Started with M&D in: 2000

Started as: Office Position for the Huntsville Hospital Projects

Though currently in the office, Tama started her career in the field as a pipe helper. She worked in construction for several years, learning electrical and structural welding skills before leaving construction for an office job. It did not take very long before Tama realized how much she missed the culture and people in the construction industry.

Tama joined M&D Mechanical Contractors in 2000, working out of the company's Huntsville Hospital office. She handled the company's payroll and invoicing for Huntsville Hospital projects, but the new job put her back in the construction industry that she loved. Through persistence, Tama became the material and equipment coordinator for the main company office. The high-energy position keeps her busy every day, but Tama loves that her job is never boring.

For women in construction, Tama says that they have to work a little harder and need to make sure that they want to be in the industry. Though in a male-dominated field, Tama feels that her hard work has allowed her to be successful, and that being a woman has not kept her back. She also believes that her knowledge of the field has really contributed to her ability to do her job even better.

Her advice: "This is a great industry to be in, but you have to love it. Try it, and learn everything that you can. Be consistent and show enthusiasm."
